DETAILED ACTION

This communication is responsive to Amendment filed 05/21/10.

Claims 1-8, 9-10, 30 are pending in this application. Claims 1, 30 are independent claims.

Information Disclosure Statement

Applicants' Information Disclosure Statements, filed 05/21/10 and 06/24/10, have been received, entered into the record, and considered. See attached form PTO-1449.

Statement of Reasons for Allowance

Claims 1, 2, 5-7, 9, 10, 30 are allowed.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance.

The present invention is directed to an update distribution system architecture and method for distributing software updates.

All independent claims 1, 30 recite, or similarly recite, in combination with the remaining elements, wherein each of the plurality of child update service nodes includes an administration application programming interface (API) and administration user interface through which an administrator establishes a set of rules for distributing software updates, and wherein a first set of rules establishes a first group and specifies a subset of the software updates as available to the first group, wherein each of the plurality of child update service nodes comprises: storing software updates in an update store; obtaining software updates from its parent update service node over the communication network through an update web service, and through which the child update service node distributes software updates to its child update service nodes over the communication network; determining software updates available to be distributed to one or more child update service nodes according to the established rules; generating and sending update activity reports to the parent update service node; determining whether an update service node is authorized to obtain software updates from the child update service node; and distributing software updates to client computers.

The closest prior art, Mayer et al (USP 20020019864), in view of Melchione et al (USP 20030200300), and further in view of Crudele et al (US 6973,647) show similar methods of data processing networks where data processing devices comprising data processing resources are arranged distributedly within an hierarchical data processing network infrastructure, and for managing the configuration, particularly configuration changes, of the data processing devices or the respective data processing resources. However, prior art of record neither renders obvious nor anticipates the combination of claimed elements in light of the specification. After a further search and a thorough examination of the present application and in light of the prior art made of record, claims are allowed.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
